* Research the winners of literary prizes and make it your aim to read the entire list.

* Keep a reading journal and let's talk about it together.

* The Carnegie Award and the Costa Book award showcase young authors.

* The Man Booker Prize and Pulitzer Prize are both awards for adult authors.

Find out about each of these authors before you read them and make notes in your journal. When were they writing these novels?

Make a list of other books they have written?

What are their life stories which inspired them to write and express themselves?
